Railroads Near Normal; Court Fines Debated

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads are operating at almost full capacity today as legal arguments over union fines continue.

Eight major carriers went back into operation Monday after a costly four-day strike by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen.

The strike by 8,000 firemen put more than 200,000 workers either out of jobs or on part-time work, piled up freight and closed some industries because of lack of supplies.

The striking firemen lost $320,000 a day in wages. The railroads say they lost more than $30 million in revenue.

As the trains ran again, an argument erupted over whether the union owes $27,500 in contempt-of-court fines.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff of U.S. District Court in Washington lifted a threat of $510,000 a day in fines Monday.

Due And Payable
 But court officials said fines of $27,500 are due and payable because the strike did not end by noon Sunday.

The strike, called by BLF&E President H. E. Gilbert over the issue of eliminating firemen's jobs, ended late Sunday night.

An attorney for the union said no fines are due. "No trial has been held to determine whether the brotherhood violated the order after noon Sunday," he said in Washington.

Court officials said that if the fine is not paid in a reasonable time, the bill will be turned over to a U.S. marshal for collection.

There is a possibility of damage suits against the union by some of the carriers.

Central To File
 The Illinois Central said in Chicago Monday night that it will file a damage suit against the BLF&E by the end of the week.

Union Pacific said earlier that it plans to file suit.

The other struck railroads were the Seaboard Air Line, Central of Georgia, Missouri Pacific, Grand Trunk Western, Boston & Maine and the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The walkout of 1,500 firemen forced the layoff of half the Pennsylvania's 60,000 employees, a spokesman said. He estimated that the strike cost the system "in the millions of dollars."

Back Gilbert
 The Illinois Central, which estimated a $4 million loss in revenue during the strike, said its service through 14 states was on schedule. Service was available and on schedule for the Chicago area's 32,500 daily commuters within two hours after the strike ended.

The Seaboard Air Line, which also estimated loss at $4 million, said all operations should be normal by tonight.

In Memphis, where 2,500 workers were affected, the BLF&E local said of the strike: "We are backing Brother Gilbert 100 per cent and told him at $25,000 and $2,500 the price was cheap."

The federal court in Washington also levied a personal fine of $2,500 a day on Gilbert if the strike wasn't ended by noon Sunday.

19 Chosen To Be Astronauts In Moon Team

MANNED SPACE CENTER. Houston, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. space agency, faced with fewer astronauts than expected to blaze America's trail in space, has 19 new spacemen, the largest group ever named at one time.

These additions to the team Monday boosted the astronaut ranks to an even 50, but it will be at least two years before any of the rookies gets a chance to man a spaceship under current training policies.

Nevertheless, the agency prepared for the busy time toward the end of this decade, when it hopes to be rocketing three men at a time on trips to the moon, and on other ambitious space missions.

Originally, officials planned to pick only 15 for the new group. However, this was before the Gemini 9 crew — Elliot M. Sze and Air Force Maj. Charles A. Bassett Jr. — died in a jet plane crash Feb. 28.

Double Expected Loss
 The astronaut corps has been struck by sickness, death and resignations at double the 10 per cent manpower loss rate officials say they had figured on.

Three of 36 chosen earlier died in jet crashes, 2 resigned, and 3 were knocked off flying status by medical problems.

The famed original seven Mercury astronauts were selected April 6, 1959. The United States added nine in 1962. Fourteen in 1963, and six scientist-astronauts in 1965.

With a breakneck pace in manned space exploration, the agency has found itself on the borderline of a pilot shortage.

All but 5 of the 23 flight-qualified astronauts are assigned to a 1966 space flight, either as prime or back-up crewmen. One mission, Gemini 12, still lacks a crew.

Two Michigan Men
 The new astronauts, picked from 351 applicants, will report for duty at the Space Center early in May and begin training almost immediately. They are:

1. Vance D. Brand, 34, civilian, born Longmont, Colo.
2. Lt. John S. Bull, 31, Navy, born Memphis, Tenn.
3. Maj. Gerald P. Carr, 32, Marine, born Denver, Colo.
4. Capt. Charles M. Duke Jr., 30, Air Force, born Charlotte, N.C.

US Jets Strike At China-N Viet Link

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers lashed North Viet Nam's main railroad line to Red China, giving top priority to a bridge only 25 miles northeast of Hanoi, an American spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said that for the first time since the 37-day bombing pause ended Jan. 31, restrictions limiting American planes to communication targets in the southern part of North Viet Nam had been lifted somewhat. He did not explain further.

With clearing skies, Air Force and Navy planes flew 65 combat missions Monday over North Viet Nam. Asked if the switch to targets near the North Vietnamese capital was in reprisal for the terrorist bombing last week of a U.S. officers' billet in Saigon, a U.S. embassy spokesman said: "No, we do not make reprisal attacks."

Hit Yards
 Three Americans and three Vietnamese were killed and more than 100 persons were wounded in the attack on the billet early last Friday. The United States began almost daily air raids on the Communist north Feb. 7, 1965, in reprisal for a guerrilla attack on the U.S. base at Pleiku, in South Viet Nam's central highlands.

In addition to the Phu Lang Thon railroad bridge 25 miles outside Hanoi, the Air Force planes attacked a section of the railroad 32 miles northeast of the capital and a highway bridge and marshaling yard in the same general area. The spokesman said the yard was left in an unusable state but had prevented assessment of the results of the other attacks.

U.S. planes last hit the sector in November.

Other Air Force jets blasted the Phu Tho railroad bridge 46 miles south of Hanoi. The pilots reported destroying 100 tents, four to six buildings, a warehouse and underground storage areas and setting other structures afire.

Air Force B52s from Guam returned to South Viet Nam's northern provinces this morning, striking a Viet Cong and North Vietnamese assembly point 25 miles west of Hue.

Budget Phony, Claims Dirksen
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are running into difficulties in their campaign to combat threatened inflation by budget cuts rather than a tax increase.

The chief problem, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said in an interview, is that President Johnson "grossly underestimated expenditures" in his $112.8-billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"He talks about a $1.8-billion deficit," Dirksen said. "That's completely phony. The deficit is likely to be somewhere between $5 billion and $6 billion. We just can't cut enough to balance this budget."

"I think the cost of the Viet Nam is going to be considerably higher than it was estimated when the budget was submitted in January," he said. "There won't be any cutting of military funds."

Johnson estimated defense spending at $60.5 billion but did not break the total down to spell out the Viet Nam costs. The best estimate is around $10.5 billion.

Dirksen said inflation-conscious Republicans are having to take into account "the fact that in coming even close to balancing the budget the President made cuts in funds he knew Congress was likely to restore."

Johnson's reductions in school lunch, agriculture and certain education outlays already have been loudly denounced by both Democrats and Republicans. White House spokesmen have said Johnson recognizes that Congress' reaction may be to spending more than he programmed.

Judy Lynn Goes Home Tomorrow
 ANN ARBOR (AP) — Five-year old Judy Lynn Funch is getting along "very, very, well" and may go home from University of Michigan Hospital Wednesday.

The hospital reported Judy's continuing improvement Monday. A spokesman said there are tentative plans for her release.

Judy, a tiny child, underwent a rare heart operation March 11. Doctors said if she did not have the operation she might live only a few years. The operation was to give her a chance for a normal life.

Surgeons removed an obstruction from a vein bringing blood from Judy's lungs to her heart. The operation lasted five hours.

Ease Downstate Truck Weights
 LANSING (AP) — The Highway Department has announced an easing of truck weight restrictions as of noon Wednesday.

Normal legal loads will be allowed on all state trunklines from the south state line north to and including M 46 from Muskegon to Port Sanilac.

Weight restrictions will continue on all state trunklines in the remainder of the state with the exception of those designated as all-season trunklines.

Call Out Guard In Five County Disaster Area
 LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Throngs of sightseers today hampered officials and house-holders engaged in a massive cleanup job after a series of tornadoes which left a path of destruction across central Florida.

The twisters, hoppingscotch Monday from Tampa on the Gulf of Mexico to the Cape Kennedy area on the Atlantic Coast, left at least 10 dead, injured more than 300 and did damage estimated by the state office of Civil Defense at $29.4 million.

A spokesman for the sheriff's office in the hard-hit citrus growing county of Polk begged the curious to stay out of the area.

"They're sitting in nice cars watching and blocking roads we need to get equipment through," he said. "We can't get big trucks in."

The sheriff's office said that unless sightseers stop arriving, measures will be taken to clear the stricken sections of all but residents.

Looting, however, was at a minimum with only one arrest reported — a juvenile who was raiding a model airplane store. National Guardsmen and other officers were on duty through the night to protect homes and businesses.

Gov. Haydon Burns said he would ask President Johnson to declare five counties disaster areas, making them eligible for federal relief.

The Red Cross said the hardest hit area was around Gibsonsia, north of Lakeland, where a preliminary survey showed at least 300 homes destroyed or damaged. There was heavy damage all around Lakeland, a city of 41,000, at Auburndale, Davenport, Haines City and Winter Haven.

Hit Citrus Area
 Striking first at the St. Petersburg-Clearwater area about 8 a.m., the howling winds next hit Tampa, second largest city in the state with 275,000, then moved on to Lakeland in the northern part of citrus-rich Polk County.

The twisters moved south of Orlando and went into the Atlantic Ocean just south of the missile center at Cape Kennedy.

West of Gibsonsia, another 32 homes were destroyed. Twenty-six trailers were splintered at a trailer park south of Polk City, at least four homes destroyed in an area southwest of Lakeland, and serious damage was inflicted by tornadic winds on at least 30 homes in southeast Lakeland.

Miraculously only six persons were killed in and around Lakeland.

$20 Million, One County
 Civil Defense Director G. Wes Gunn said a first-day survey showed total property damage in Polk County will exceed $20 million.

"It was really a miracle we didn't have more people killed," said Sherwood D. Smith, administrator of Lakeland General Hospital, largest in the county. He said about 60 persons came in for treatment in the first two hours — between 9 and 11 a.m. Monday — beginning with a bus load of students from Lakeland's Southwest Junior High School.

The tornado caved in portions of the school roof, injuring students with flying debris and glass.

Before the day ended, the hospital had treated at least 92 persons and admitted 11. Civil Defense officials estimated 150 injuries countywide.

The Red Cross placed in 25 rooms of a Lakeland hotel injured persons who did not need to be hospitalized.

Over In Minutes
 "Things happened so fast I didn't realize what was going on," said William Turner, 56. "In a couple of minutes it was all over."

Turner was inside his home. The house was damaged but was one of the few not destroyed in a North Lakeland development.

"There was a terrible noise," Turner said. "It sounded like my house was going to take off. My three grandchildren and one of their friends screamed but I could hardly hear them."

Escanaba Grows:

City's Valuation Gains $817,180

The total assessed valuation in the City of Escanaba gained by $817,180 over last year, according to figures approved by the Board of Review and released today by City Assessor Charles Schmidt.

The increase is from $27,-

885,640 in 1965 to $28,702,820 this year.

Overall increase in real estate was $322,180 and in the category of personal property the overall gain was $495,000.

The biggest gain in personal property was in the addition of the gas utility, which the City of Escanaba sold to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., the assessor reported.

The increase in real estate was due primarily to the construction of 32 new homes in the city in 1965 plus 34 major commercial projects.

Another contributing factor was the removal of widows and hardships exemptions, which will now be paid by the State of Michigan under the Senior Citizens Act.

Five hundred and thirty senior citizens applied for exemptions for 1966, the assessor said. In addition, 174 veterans exemptions were received, which will also be paid by the state.

The Board of Review is composed of Escanaba Supervisors L. J. Jacobs, Matt Smith and Wesley Hansen, Mayor George Rusch and city assessor.

Reindl Wins Fourth Term

MENOMINEE — Mayor John (Junior) Reindl, younger brother of Menominee County's long time sheriff (over 30 years) won a fourth term as mayor of Menominee in Monday's election, defeating former alderman Edward J. Slawinski, 1,911 to 1,200.

Slawinski works at Verneco, Inc., and Reindl owns and operates the Rio Vista Motel. His margin, while big, was less than some political observers had expected.

Alderman Edward (Blaz) Smith was defeated for re-election in the 7th Ward by Richard Trempe, 27, making his first try in politics, 319 to 256. Smith had served the ward since 1936 except for the war years.

Harry Johnson was re-elected 178-100, as alderman in the 2nd Ward, defeating Ralph C. Olsen, who lost two years ago by only 4 votes.

No one filed for alderman in the 6th Ward and city council barred write-ins so Mayor Reindl said he'd name James Throm for one year as he had announced his intention to be a write-in candidate.

The vote was 57 per cent of the city's registration.

LANSING (AP) — Ground water levels in Michigan climbed during March and generally were above average, except in the southeast, the U.S. Geological Survey reports.

Clinton County recorded its first above average level since September, 1960.

In Southeastern Michigan, despite the climbs, levels remained below average in key wells in Calhoun, Ingham, Oakland and Sanilac Counties.

The level at Marquette County in Upper Michigan rose to slightly above average for the month.

Stormy Weather:

Building Jobs In Slow Start

Temperamental weather that included a disrupting blizzard has thrown the spring construction schedule out of kilter in the Escanaba area, but a number of projects are started and others are waiting to go.

Applications for building permits for six dwellings were approved in the city in March and construction is continuing on others, according to records in the City Hall.

Charles Schmidt, city assessor, said that the new dwellings permits were issued to:

Don Bichler, 2400 Lake Shore Drive; Carlton Nelson, 1900 23rd Ave. S.; James Pascoe, 2125 24th Ave. S.; Robert DeGrand, 2205 6th Ave. S.; Martin Krogstad Sr., 1704 18th Ave. S.; and Martin Krogstad Jr., 1626 18th Ave. S.

In late March the city's public works crew got off to a good start with alley paving a sanitary sewer extension jobs, only to have them halted by cold weather and snow. Work has been resumed and is continuing this week under the supervision of Kenneth Toussak, public works superintendent.

City Manager George Harvey has informed the City Council that one of the sanitary sewer jobs is between 5th and 6th Aves. S. east from 26th St., which is expected to entail deep-watering and "many other difficulties."

"From there the crews will go to the sanitary sewer job for the medical building" which is in the area southwest of the Escanaba Area High School, he reported. This area has been rezoned to permit multiple dwellings also and the construction of apartments is contemplated, perhaps starting this year.

Inflation Increases

To most economists outside the Johnson Administration it is now apparent that the federal government should be doing something about the inflationary forces which are hotting up the economy.

For the fellow who doesn't bother with study of economics, it means that the value of our money is under increasing threat; that your paycheck and pension check isn't going to buy as much in the future as it does today unless steps are taken to curb inflation.

The government is the agency that can control the situation. It sets the cost of credit and it sets wage controls.

The Johnson Administration understands the situation and it has moved to ease it. But President Johnson likes to be identified as the author of our current business boom—it's great politically—and he isn't anxious to cut it off. No one else is anxious to cut it off, either, if it can be maintained without inflating the value of goods (and deflating the value of money) but this can't be done.

The president spoke in January of the "American economic miracle" but Treasury Secretary Fowler has said more recently that the administration is moving from a policy of steady stimulation of demand to a policy of "moderate restraint."

Outside the administration, where economists are free to speak frankly because they needn't support the administration position supporting the boom, the cries of alarm increase. Arthur F. Burns, who was chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers in the Eisenhower Administration says America is "moving in the direction of inflation."

He's one of three Columbia University professors who spoke on the danger in Detroit recently. Burns said the Administration has been attempting to ward off inflation by restricting credit and that this has caused a sharp increase in interest rates.

He said that the wise course for the government now is to restrict increases in aggregate demand for goods by curtailing its own spending on civilian programs. If it doesn't do that we must have tax increases to siphon off big hunks of income so they won't bid up prices for scarce goods and destroy our money (wage) values.

This the Johnson Administration isn't doing. It is going to crack on some more federal taxes to take money away from the people instead of reducing government spending on civilian programs so that more money wouldn't have to be taken away from the people with taxes.

The administration won't restrict its spending. It has moved instead to curb spending by making it more expensive to borrow money. Interest rates are now rising and "prime" borrowers at the commercial banks now pay 5 1/2 per cent.

Thus consumers have to curb their borrowing at banks for the buying of goods and service. Homeowners must now restrict borrowing for mortgage loans. Business will have to pay more to borrow money and this will curb its ability to spend on new machines to produce goods at lower cost.

Any suggestion that the federal government can't cut its spending because of the war in Viet Nam is a phony. Roger Freeman, economist at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University says that in the past 10 years federal spending for defense, space research, etc., has actually lowered while domestic spending has soared. Personal consumption expenditures as a percentage of the Gross National Product rose only 66 per cent, and the cost of domestic government services jumped 173 per cent.

In the cash budget for the fiscal year 1967 the total national defense expenditures are estimated at $60.5 billion. Nondefense spending comes to $83.6 billion. Comparing the 1967 budget with 1956 shows that defense costs in the 11 years have risen only $20.5 billion while nondefense spending has increased by $52 billion.

Don't believe the phony argument that the government must levy new taxes to prevent inflation. It can do the same thing with much better results by reducing nondefense spending of dubious merit.

Crucial Month

The poet who said that April is the cruelest month wrote better than he knew.

This year, not only must taxpayers beware the ideo of April as usual—the deadline for filing income tax returns, that is—but they must wait until the end of the month to learn President Johnson's decision regarding possible new taxes.

It all hinges very much on what the Labor Department reports on the trend of the consumer price index in March. If it repeats February's story, which saw a sharp over-all increase of one-half of one per cent that boosted the cost of living 2.5 per cent higher than it was a year ago, then the President will reluctantly seek a "modest" 5 to 7 per cent increase in corporate and personal income taxes.

The President is reluctant on at least two counts. It is an election year, and congressmen running for reelection always make handy targets for frustrated voters. Also, as the author of the Johnson Boom, he is hesitant to set in motion forces that could turn it into the Johnson Bust.

Timely tax cuts in 1964 and 1965 clearly spurred the current economic expansion, thus validating one thesis of the "New Economics." It remains in the realm of theory whether a timely and moderate tax increase can dispel the inflationary fever without chilling the boom entirely.

Amid the signs of spring, however, there are few indications that the heated-up economy will simmer down of its own accord and many that the temperature is not only going higher but going higher faster.

Since only a minority in Congress dares to talk about cutbacks in federal spending, and since wage and price controls appear to be out of the question at this time, an across-the-board tax hike begins to loom as inevitable—if it is not, as some argue, already overdue.

Defenders Of The Condemned

Executioner Followed Orders

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Through the last watches of the night, he had paced the guard room floor, sleepless, disgusted, as the wheels of oppression turned. Bitterly, he had heard the shifty procurator pass sentence. And now, Petronius marched the victims toward Golgotha, the hill of the skull. Keep them moving. Don't think about the consequences. Follow orders and get it over with. Leave the rest to the imperial magistrates. It was not his affair.

Up ahead, a trumpeter and herald moved at the front of the column, bearing the decree of execution. Behind them trudged the three prisoners, crossbeams on their shoulders, plodded along by the maniple of soldiers that Petronius had detailed for the assignment.

It galled him fiercely, particularly in the case of that bloodily beaten but uncomplaining One called Jesus.

Yet, even as His flesh failed and His limbs faltered, there remained about Him a firmness, some commanding nobility, something in the calm set of jaw, the burning paths in the eyes. Several times He fell under the heavy wooden patibulum.

Caesar had spoken, through his devious and ruthless provincial deputy, Pilate, playing up to an obviously staged claue. "Crucify Him!" Thus the sovereign judgment. Thus the royal rot!

Petronius muttered an oath, glancing about at the profusion of dark, gaping eyes, the sobbing native women pressing in close to that horribly mauled prisoner, Jesus, who murmured something to them, gravely, sympathetically, concerned with them instead of Himself. "... Weep not for Me..."

So this was justice! Rome the astute mistress, "goddess of the earth," guardian of the virtues, its will enforced by its legions. Four of them, of 6,000 men each, were stationed in Judea to "preserve peace," the 3rd, 6th, 10th and 12th legions, with the main garrison on the coast at Caesarea.

If Petronius had only been there, he wouldn't have been given this present foul job.

Petronius stared at the dusty cobblestones underfoot, noting the red trail left there by the cartage of some newly slaughtered animal. Then, nausea filling his throat, he realized the blood came not from an animal but from that lacerated Jewish rabbi being driven to execution.

A blatant sham, using this sensitive Jesus as a scapegoat, and Petronius knew it. He was part of the detachment that arrested the man last night outside the walls, and which had hustled Him from place to place, trying to determine just what tribunal would handle the proceedings against Him.

The titled local sycophants, who cooperated with Rome, ori-

PRETONIUS, the ultimate soldier, the dedicated instrument of Caesar, had ill-taste for his task. But Caesar had spoken and there was no other way to act but to follow the order to the letter. He seized Jesus, and started the inexorable machinery of execution. And, yet, he protested to the skies: "Certainly this man was innocent."

Initially questioned Him, and then flunkies slapped Him around, seeking in vain to elicit some damning statement. "I have spoken openly to the world," He said. A rare policy, in those conniving times.

The man was locked in the fortress dungeon, before being reexamined and brought before Pilate this morning for the inevitable condemnation.

Once the process started, with Rome, her territorial vassal, Herod Antipas, and the city au-

Ripe For New Coups

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Indications reaching here from sources in Africa suggest that conditions are ripe for military coups in several more African countries.

Two good bets: Guinea and the former French Congo, sometimes called Congo-Brazzaville, next door to the old Belgian Congo.

In the past year, seven of the new African nations have fallen to military overthrows. Ghana was only the latest in the series.

It's almost the only way, say some American experts, that most of these countries can change governments. Most have constitutions which provide for orderly change through elections. The constitutions are usually ignored or evaded.

It's usually not possible for opposition political parties or other groups to overthrow the incumbents—who control the elections, the finance and the police.

So when groups in these countries become dissatisfied with the government, there's only the army to turn to.

What's back of these revolts?

In some of the new nations, it's growing corruption. Sometimes it's economic decline which hits hard the families of the soldiers. Sometimes it's brutal political repression. In others, it's growing disorder and the inability of the government to keep order. In other cases it's regional or tribal conniving. Sometimes it's when the government threatens to cut back the army.

In Dahomey, Gen. Christophe Soglo's assumption of power took place with the tacit assent of leading Dahomean politicians who, themselves unable to reach an agreement to solve government problems, were willing to let Soglo and a cabal of technicians try their hand.

The Doctor Says:

Lanolin Base Best For Cleansing

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstad

There has been some confusion over a statement I made regarding cold cream. For dry skin I recommended cold cream with a lanolin base for cleansing. For this purpose the so-called vanishing creams with a greaseless base should be avoided.

Q — My doctor says I have pemphigus erythematous vulgaris. What causes this? Can it be cured?

A — Pemphigus is a disease in which large blisters or blisters occur suddenly. The cause is unknown. There are several forms of the disease but none exactly as you have stated. Pemphigus vulgaris is the commonest form and was always fatal before the discovery of cortisone. This disease is characterized by severe pain and prostration. It should always be treated in a hospital, because scrupulous care is required to prevent the blisters from becoming infected and because transfusions are sometimes needed. When treatment with cortisone is started early in the course of the disease a cure can usually be expected.

Pemphigus erythematodes is a rare form of the disease that is characterized by remissions and recurrences but is less severe than pemphigus vulgaris. Q — Is there any cure for hidradenitis suppurativa? I have authorities all involved in it, just who did what under whose influence became cloaked in an ambiguous interwoven web.

The impulse stirred, the establishment moved, and its subjects fell in line. The wave of the world rolled, and its filmy human particles went with it. Like mindless sheep, running in imitation. Like water in a torrent.

Even the man's trusted comrades deserted Him, spurned Him, repudiated Him. "I do not know the man!" swore his chief

In Nigeria, the military government which assumed power in January, has received pledges of support from all of Nigeria's major political parties as well as from labor unions, student and civic groups and local leaders.

When the army deposed Ben Bella in Algeria and arrested him for treason, analysts report, the only public reaction was one of relief (except for several Communist demonstrations).

In the Upper Volta, Lt. Col. Sanguole Lamizana, army chief of staff, took over the government only after labor union strikers and demonstrators vigorously insisted on the removal of President Maurice Yameogo.

The take-over was so friendly that President Yameogo in resigning expressed extremely warm feelings of good will toward Lamizana.

In Ghana, since the army coup, there's been a freeing of political prisoners, a moderate government attitude and a considerable amount of public rejoicing over the ousting of Kwame Nkrumah.

As of now, U. S. government analysts see a difference between what's happening in Africa and the early military dictatorships that marred Latin-American history.

By and large, the African military coup leaders have been moderate. They've usually let the civil service run the government. They've cut down on tribalism. Where the previous governments have had strong Communist ties, they've cut these ties and moved toward the center. Most of the new governments are more friendly with the West. Most have said they intend to turn the government over to civilians. There's a tendency here to believe that most mean what they say—as of now.

apostle, Peter, cursing vehemently. "I do not know him!" The whole, rickety, massmolded system had turned on its prey of the moment, and joined in crushing Him.

Pretonius was in it, too, hating it, condemning it, but going along with it.

Step by step, against the mounting sun, his grim parade passed through the gate, and climbed the rocky hill where the uprights stood. Revolted, angry, his eyes red with fatigue and anguish, he carried out the world's will. He hung Jesus until He was dead, and had Him speared in the side to make sure.

But even as he did so, his conscience rebelled and he flung his lonely protest into the darkened sky. "Certainly this man was innocent," he cried. "Truly, this was the Son of God."

Pretonius, the reliable soldier, the solid citizen. He rejected his action, even as he performed it. The Eagle screamed, and the soldier functioned; his reflexes worked and his sword flashed, obedient to men, driven by overwhelming forces that seemed beyond personal control, swept on by the world around.

Yet that finer force in the individual, "in foro conscientiae," still pulsed, insisting on the right even as he succumbed to the wrong, proclaiming truth, even as it choked beneath the avalanche of the world's collective deprecations.

Pretonius sank to his knees his face an ashen, corrugated mask, the dripping spear beside him. A dutiful Roman, a responsible man, properly serving a mighty civilization which dominated the earth.

He had done his duty. But he had violated his fundamental being. He had given up himself. At the world's bidding, he also was impaled on that far-spread cross. He, too, was its victim. He, too, was sacrificed.

Souvenir Nazi Flag Ought To Be Burned

Dear Ann Landers: My father fought for the allies in Europe during World War II. He and his men captured a Nazi headquarters. They divided the Nazi flags, lugers, helmets and other items which were suitable for souvenirs.

A few months ago my dad took his souvenirs out of the attic and decided to decorate the rec room. He placed the Nazi flag on a stand next to the American flag. Anyone could see it was meant as a decoration.

Some friends of my parents came to play bridge last night. When they saw the Nazi flag they said some words I cannot spell and you cannot print. I guess they were overly upset because they had lost some relatives in the German gas chambers and the sight of a Nazi flag was too much for them.

My mother says if that Nazi flag is going to cause so much commotion, Dad should take it down. Dad says he is not expecting anybody to salute it—that it's just a souvenir. What do you say?—BYSTANDER

Dear By: Salute it yet? Your dad must be out of his mind to place the Nazi flag next to the American flag. And you picked a fine person to ask what to do with it. The thought of those butchers enrages me so that I can barely see to type the answer to the next letter. Put the thing back in the attic. Or, better yet, tell your dad to burn it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who has a very serious problem. I am sure that my 16-year-old brother is a homosexual.

What can I do to help him? Our parents are divorced and we live with our mother. I'm not very close to mother and it would be very hard for me to bring up the subject. My father would not be interested. Should I tell my brother I want to help him? He has never discussed this with me and I have not let on that I know something is wrong with him. Please give me some advice.—BIG SISTER.

Dear Big Sister: While most homosexuals are very lonely and desperately unhappy, some are reasonably content and have no desire to change. Unless your brother confides in you that he wants help, say nothing to him—or to anyone else. The family physician

Money Talks But Has Competition

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Money still talks but up in the executive suites other things sometimes are more persuasive. Such things as more interesting work, less cut-throat competition among fellow executives, freedom from overemphasis on memo writing, may mean more to a key man than an offer of higher pay if he is thinking of changing jobs. In an affluent society, with more big-salaried posts around than men with ability or reputation to command them, a lot of companies are reporting trouble these days in recruiting top or middle-level officials. Today, executive recruiters say, a prospect may turn down a job offering $25,000 more a year if he feels the other company would be less congenial to his tastes, the other industry less fitted to his talents, or even another location less suited for his hobbies. The typical executive today is well-paid. He probably can furnish most of the things his family craves. Profit sharing, retirement and other benefits ease his present and future state. More money weighs less in his mind today than yesteryear when good jobs were hard to find. One big company is having trouble getting new men because of its reputation for organizational zeal. "It's report-happy," one man said in turning down an offer, "and I'd rather be judged on performance than on my literary skill."

Doubts About Image
Thorndike Deland Associates, executive recruiters, reports one key vice president recently turned down a $100,000-a-year post to stay on his present $75,000 job. His reason: he had doubts about the other firm's image.

Still another stuck to his $28,000 post rather than take $40,000 from a larger company. His reason: his firm promoted him to executive vice president (with no pay boost) and he could be a general executive there rather than a production specialist with the larger one.

One of the biggest companies in its field is having trouble getting men, the recruiters say, because of its reputation of being overloaded with "young tigers" fiercely competing with each other. One executive who declined an offer said, "Why should I get into that rat race when I can make almost as much here and not get an ulcer?"

Pursue City, School Plans

Further consideration of the proposed community-school program for Escanaba will be discussed by the City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday in the City Hall. The proposal is to bring the city recreation program and the use of the Escanaba Area Public Schools into closer association. Some discussions have been held and the Board of Education at its last meeting tabled the matter of financing for further study.

Bids will be opened by the Council for asphalt and asphalt emulsion, ready-mix concrete, concrete pipe, and underground cable.

There will be a report and recommendation to the Council on an electric truck bid; and a report of the Board of Canvassers on today's election.

The Council will receive from L. J. Jacobs his resignation from the Board of Review and the Delta County Board of Supervisors; the purchase of a calculator will be considered; and a resolution will be considered to oppose placing municipal utility systems under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

The Council will also consider a resolution supporting North Central Airlines' application for a local airline service from Detroit to Toronto.

Unions Vote On Ending Boston's Paper Walkout

BOSTON (AP)—Printers and mailers vote today on a tentative agreement to end the Boston newspaper strike.

The agreement was announced Saturday night after a series of marathon negotiations with the unions, publishers and federal and state mediators.

The Morning and Evening Globe, the Morning Herald, Evening Traveler and the Record American have been shut down since March 6.

Terms of the agreement were not announced.

The publishers had offered a three-year package totaled $8.30 in health-welfare and pension benefits the first two years and an $8 cash increase the third year.

The printers and mailers wanted the option of taking all or part of the $16.30 in cash.

The printers' base scale now is $140 a week; the mailers' $126.

Direct Relief Cases Increase

Delta County's direct relief welfare cases increased in December, but the spending on them—mostly for supplementing care of patients in nursing homes—went down, the State Department of Social Welfare reports.

Delta had 168 direct relief cases in December and 114 a year ago, but its spending of $8,521 was under the $9,177 layout a year ago.

In December Delta had 330 persons receiving Old Age Assistance for a total of $22,750 for the month, and an average of $68.40 a case.

This average was rather low for the U.P., whose high was in Chippewa with $113.57. Other counties with averages over $100 per case included Gogebic with $100.75, Luce with $104.96, Marquette with $110.57.

The others were Alger $75.37, Baraga $92.52, Dickinson $81.53, Houghton $88.80, Iron $88.40, Keweenaw $54.42, Mackinac $70.08, Menominee $83.69, Ontonagon $78.61 and Schoolcraft $59.41.

The U.P. counties had fewer direct relief cases in December, 1,364, than a year ago, when they had 1,448. Spending, however, was up from $97,221 to $114,285. U.P. spending on the 3,104 OAA cases was $276,922.

Editors' Speaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara will address the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its May meeting in Montreal, it has been announced.

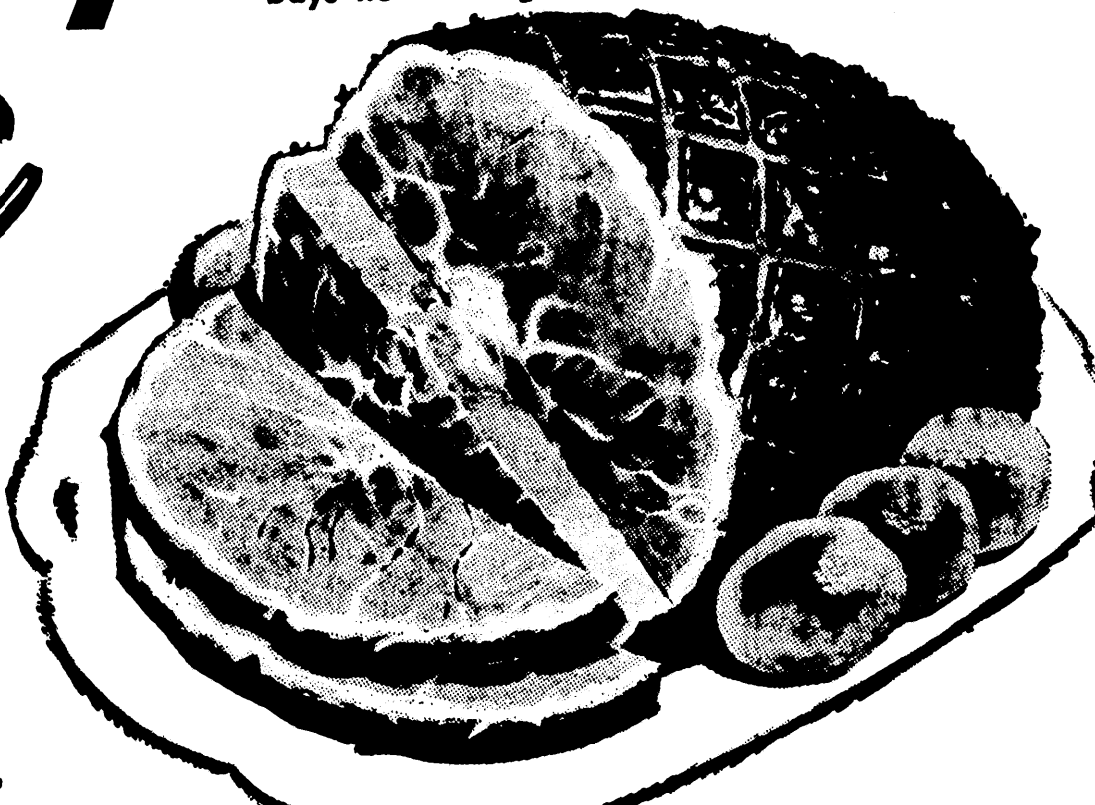

Vermont Royster, society president and editor of The Wall Street Journal, said McNamara would speak at a luncheon Wednesday, May 18.

Some 500 American editors will attend the convention, the first to be held outside the United States. Leading editors and publishers of Canadian daily newspapers will participate as special guests.

Voters Pick Vanlerberghe, Cox And Chase; Moreau Is Defeated

Escanaba voters reelected Harold J. Vanlerberghe to the City Council for a four-year term in Monday's election, but defeated the other incumbent, Glen Moreau, who is ending his first four years on the Council.

In an election marked by considerable disinterest and no debated issues, the voters returned to the Council Edward J. Cox, who retired in 1962 after serving on the Council for 10 years.

The only "new face" on the Council (other than Cox) will be Cecil B. Chase, who was elected to fill the unexpired two-year term of Jacob Bink. Councilman Bink retired because of ill health.

Vote Is Light

There were six candidates for the four-year term and three for the two-year term.

Despite the number of candidates the voting was light, only 45 per cent of the city's 7,323 registered voters turning out to cast ballots, reports City Clerk Don Guindon. In the Council election of two years ago the turn-out was 52 per cent.

Vanlerberghe received 1901 votes. He is traffic manager for the Escanaba Division of the Mead Corp., and has been on the Council since the spring of 1960.

Cox is an employee of the Chicago & North Western Railway and served on the Council from 1951 to 1962. He polled 1389.

Chase received 1324 votes.

Harold J. Vanlerberghe

Edward J. Cox

Cecil B. Chase

He is a senior rate clerk employed by Clairmont Transfer Co., and was a strong candidate but failed of election to the Council two years ago.

How They Voted

The vote for each of the nine candidates:

Four - year term — Vanlerberghe 1901, Cox 1389, Mrs. Frank Neumeier 1107, Edward Gosselin 764, Glenn Moreau 692, Mason Johnson 223.

Two-year term—Chase 1324, Lyle Plowman 946, Arol E. Beck 848.

Mrs. Neumeier, housewife and League of Women Voters leader, came within 282 votes of the Cox total. Escanaba has never had a woman serve either as alderman or councilman in its history.

Vanlerberghe Mayor?

The Council will meet in organization session at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, April 11 at the City Hall.

At that time there will be present Councilmen Vanlerberghe, Cox and Chase and hold-overs George Rusch, who has served as mayor for the past two years, and H. George Nelson.

With the city clerk presiding the "new" Council will elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem for the succeeding two years.

Should the Council follow a custom of long-standing, it will elect Vanlerberghe as mayor to succeed Rusch. The custom is to elect as mayor the councilman who has received the highest vote. Vanlerberghe was mayor from 1962 to 1964.

Councilman Moreau, who was defeated for reelection, is an employee of the Harnischfeger Corp. and has been identified with organized labor as a past president of Harnischfeger Local of the UAW.

Announce Good Friday Service At Noa Home

A special service for protestant and anglican residents of the Bishop Noa Home will be held at 7 p.m. Good Friday in the All Faith Chapel at the home, announces Ted Gajewski, administrator of the Noa Home.

The Rev. Ben Helmer, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, will conduct the service of scripture reading, prayers and meditation. Mrs. Alton Mallmann will accompany the congregational singing of traditional Good Friday hymns.

60,000 Delegates

DETROIT (AP) — More than 60,000 delegates are expected to attend Detroit conventions this month, said Leonard Rolston, executive vice president of the Detroit Convention Bureau.

Choralaires To Present Concert Here Thursday

The Choralaires, 37 musical ambassadors from the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music, Grand Rapids, will appear in concert at the Escanaba High School auditorium on Thursday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. E.s.t.

The 3,000-mile itinerary, which includes twenty appearances in sixteen days, is the nineteenth annual tour of the Choralaires. It will be launched by a premiere performance of John W. Peterson's Easter cantata, "No Greater Love," in the 5,000-seat Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium. Mr. Peterson will conduct the 350-voice choir of which the Choralaires are a part.

An interesting aspect of the group's presentation is that they sing without direction, a new concept fostered by the school to give direct contact between the musician and the audience.

Rev. John Miles, president of the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music, will accompany the group as speaker. He has led the affairs of the school for eighteen years and has been actively engaged in its activities since its inception twenty years ago.

The concert is sponsored by the Bay de Noc Fellowship of Churches and the public is cordially invited to attend.

C&NW Aims High:

Demand For Ore Keeps Dock Busy

The Chicago & North Western Railway ore loading dock at Escanaba is one of the busiest industries in the area in meeting the demand for ore at the furnaces on the lower lakes.

"Around-the-clock operations began Monday and will continue seven days a week for the rest of the season if necessary," said L. A. McMillan, dock agent.

Five boats were loaded out since the opening of the season, two are here today, and there is a busy scheduling of loadings in the immediate future.

The E. T. Weier was to clear with a cargo at noon for Detroit and the Cornelius will get away this evening with ore for Trenton, Mich.

On Thursday the L. E. Block will return for a cargo to unload at Indiana Harbor; and on Friday there are four boats due — the Falk, the International, the Elton White and the E. T. Weier.

It is a busy schedule and the North Western looks to 1966 as "one of the good years," said McMillan. There is a demand right now from all of the furnaces and pellet ore is flowing through Escanaba in volume from the Groveland and the Empire mines.

Not all of the mines have started yet, however, and regular ore will increase in quantity from the Menominee range as the season advances.

The North Western is aiming high in 1966 — perhaps as high as some of the recent record years if everything goes well, said McMillan.

Back in 1964, for example, the North Western loaded 6,564,919 tons of ore at Escanaba; almost the equal of the 6,571,508 tons that flowed through this port in 1960 — a record year.

Last year the Escanaba total was just slightly over six million tons.

Gloria Jackson Bride Of Howard D. Miller

Miss Gloria Ann Jackson of Lansing became the bride of Howard D. Miller Saturday evening, April 2 in a candle-light ceremony at 7 o'clock at the Grace Lutheran Church in Lansing.

The Rev. C. O. Leonardson officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Jackson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Jackson of 2500 Concord Road, Lansing, formerly of Escanaba. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Miller of 1211 Berton, Lansing.

The bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza and patterned re-embroidered lace over white taffeta. The molded bodice with a portrait neckline featured jeweled lace appliques down the front of the dress to the base of the A-Line skirt and three quarter length sleeves. The wide chapel train was detachable and was held in place by a butterfly bow.

A plateau of organza leaves surrounding a cabbage rose secured her triple tiered bouffant veil of imported French illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of Eucharis lilies, Stephanotis and Camellia foliage.

Honor attendant for the bride was Patricia Gillett of Lansing and bridesmaids were Mrs. Janice Nelson of Ann Arbor and Miss Carol Schrader of Lansing, cousin of the bride.

Apple Blossom Pink
They were attired in identically styled gowns of apple blossom pink lace and crepe. The lace bodices featured scoop necklines, high rise waistlines and elbow length sleeves. The floor length sheath skirts were of matching pink crepe.

Serving as best man was Louis Leitz of Lansing and ushering duties were performed by Gary Jackson, Lansing, brother of the bride, Michael Kessler, Lansing and Nicholas Nelson of Ann Arbor.

Hundreds See Huron Planting

Upper Peninsula Gets 1st Salmon

BY KENNETH S. LOWE

SKANEE—An estimated 250 persons witnessed the historic planting of coho salmon on the Big Huron River east of here Saturday afternoon.

They withstood chilling weather to watch a token planting of 140 of the five and six-inch salmon smolts—the first coho release ever undertaken in the Upper Peninsula.

It marked the first step in the Michigan Conservation Department's attempt to introduce a new sport fish in Lake Superior.

The salmon—reared in Michigan hatcheries from eggs supplied by Oregon—were the first of 220,000 to be released in the Big Huron this spring. The remaining fish are being held at the Marquette hatchery until stream temperatures reach 40 to 45 degrees—considered the optimum for releasing smolts.

Plan Plantings
If the strategy works, the planted salmon, which are now about 18 months old, will rapidly migrate out of the Big Huron into Lake Superior, where they will grow to about six pounds before returning to the stream in the fall of 1967 to spawn and die, completing their three-year life cycle.

Additional plantings will have to be made in the Big Huron next spring and the following spring in order to have a three-year stocking to coincide with the salmon's life cycle. Russell Robertson, superintendent of the Marquette hatchery, said plans call for planting between 400,000 and 500,000 smolts in the Big Huron next spring and a similar number in the spring of 1968.

Next fall, he said, the department hopes to start taking eggs from the planted fish, hatching them and holding the resulting fish for brood stock at the Marquette hatchery to use in future plantings.

Three Streams Planted
The Big Huron is one of three streams in the state chosen for salmon releases. The other plantings were made in two downstate waters—the Platte River in Benzie County and Bear Creek in Manistee County.

Although the bulk of the salmon planted in the Big Huron this spring are not expected to return until the fall of 1967, some precocious males (called "jacks") probably will return to the stream this fall.

The big question mark hovering over the experiment is whether cohos, which normally spend their adult life in salt water before returning to fresh water tributaries of the Pacific Ocean to spawn, can adapt themselves to a completely fresh water life cycle.

Michigan Conservation Department biologists believe there is sufficient evidence to indicate that adaptation of the coho to fresh water is possible.

They cite the case of Cutthroat Lake in southern British Columbia, which has a fairly large population of cohos which do not go to sea.

Montana Success
Montana conducted a coho stocking program in Georgetown, Lake that definitely established that these fish could produce viable eggs in this exclusively fresh water habitat.

And California has succeeded in maintaining a strain of cohos in fresh water for three generations.

Among the officials attending Saturday's landmark stocking of salmon in the Big Huron were Conservation Commissioner E. M. (Matt) Laitala, Hancock, and Glenn Gregg, Marquette, regional manager of the conservation department.

"The Conservation Department is moving forward tremendously in all areas, and especially in fish planting," Mack said. He credited Laitala, Gregg and Howard Tanner, head of the department's fish section, with having played important roles in bringing about introduction of coho salmon in the Upper Peninsula.

The coho, also known as the silver salmon, is noted for its fighting qualities and is regarded as one of the finest game fishes in its native Pacific Northwest.

Chevrolet Will Repair Defect

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Division of General Motors plans to spend some $3 million to repair accelerator defects in 1964-65 model cars.

A spokesman said Monday the firm issued a call to owners of 1964-65 Chevelles and 1965 Chevrolets with Powerglide transmissions to bring them into dealers for repairs on throttles that reportedly stick. He said a splash shield would be installed free on all cars.

Unofficial estimates put the cost at $2 per car, or $3 million for the 1.5 million vehicles on the nation's roads.

The spokesman said the firm had reports of snow or slush causing accelerators to stick. However, he added the firm had no reports of "personal injuries resulting from the fewer than half a dozen cases" involving such incidents.

"This happened only in heavy snow or slush at around 32 degrees," he said. Installation of the shield, he said, would "prevent slush from packing around the throttle linkage."

Asked about the large number of cars recalled, the spokesman said: "Regardless of the number of incidents involved we take corrective action as the need indicates."

He declined comment on whether the auto firm would assume responsibility for possible damages.

The spokesman also declined comment on auto industry critic Ralph Nader's remark that the auto companies be required to notify the federal government anytime a defect was found in a large number of cars in a model run. Nader made the suggestion to a U.S. Senate committee that now is studying President Johnson's highway safety bill.

Counterfeiting Becomes Easier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improvements in photographic and printing technology have made it easier for "anyone with minimal skills" to manufacture counterfeit money, the Secret Service says.

David C. Acheson, special assistant to the secretary of the Treasury, told the House Appropriations Committee this in reporting "a noticeable increase" in counterfeiting.

Since July 1, 1965, agents have seized $4.5 million in counterfeit money, Acheson said, compared with $2.5 million in the previous 12 months.

It has been estimated that there are 120,000 taxicabs in service in the United States.

Carney-Nadeau Board Acts

School Poll Repudiated

Leno Pieropon, superintendent of Carney-Nadeau Schools, speaking for its board of education today, said that it had not sponsored the public opinion poll now being circulated under the heading of "Carney-Nadeau School District."

"It was not authorized or suggested by the Carney-Nadeau board of Education, or the administration, or faculty," said Pieropon. "The poll being circulated is not signed by any individual or organized group. The source is from outside of the school district."

The questionnaire says "The question of school district reorganization or consolidation is of utmost interest among our state legislators, educators and the federal government. Local school authorities are being pressed to take action, but public opinion or reaction can only be guessed at. The opinions listed below are only possibilities and not to be considered as actual happenings."

Five Options
"Number in order the actions you would prefer if such a plan would be placed before the voting public:

—Consolidate with Hermansville, Powers - Spalding and Carney-Nadeau,
—Consolidate with one and go our own way.
—Consolidate Carney-Nadeau and Power - Spalding only.
—Consolidate Carney - Nadeau and Hermansville only.
—Let Hermansville and Powers - Spalding consolidate and let Carney - Nadeau go to the Stephenson School District.

"Your cooperation is asked in returning this survey form to your local Post Office. These poll sheets upon return will be tabulated and results posted in the community. After tabulation these forms will be given to your local school board for their evaluation. We ask you to have this form at your post office by Friday. "Any received after will not be tabulated."

The ballots will go to Public Poll Box 45 in the Corney Post Office.
K-12 District
The Carney-Nadeau School District embraces Nadeau Township in Menominee County and part of Gourley Township to the east. It is a kindergarten through 12th grade district with 400 students enrolled, 185 in grades 7 through 12 and 215 in K-6.

The Carney-Nadeau board of education in its last meeting proposed a two year study of its future status — whether it should join a neighboring district like Stephenson, Powers-Spalding or Hermansville, and which one. A big consideration is the future of vocational education, with vocational centers planned at Menominee, Stephenson, Escanaba (Escanaba Area High School and Bay de Noc Community College) Gladstone and Manistique.

The Menominee County Intermediate School District, which will sponsor the reorganization of the country's school districts to bring them up to state standards, has not yet developed a master plan for consolidations. Delta and Schoolcraft counties, now merged in a single intermediate district, are moving toward the first round of voting on consolidation proposals.

The Carney-Nadeau questionnaire appears to be a sampling of public opinion by a neighboring school district.

Ferzacca To Leave Northern Michigan For Downstate Job

MARQUETTE—F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca will resign as Athletic Director at Northern Michigan University to assume the athletic directorship at Eastern Michigan University, it was announced today.

Dr. Edgar L. Harden, President of Northern, said Ferzacca has "helped to build an outstanding athletic program at Northern while contributing to the development of his players as students as well as athletes."

"Frosty and Northern have had nine productive years together, and we wish him well in his new assignment."

Frosty Ferzacca

In 32 years of coaching, Ferzacca achieved his greatest collegiate success at Northern where his teams compiled a record of 50 wins, 26 losses and two ties from 1937 through 1965.

Difficult To Leave

Ferzacca said "leaving Northern was a difficult decision to make. President Harden's interest in athletics and his support of the inter-collegiate program has made possible the development of an athletic tradition which has become well and favorably known wherever Northern teams compete. It is not easy to leave a University and a community where we have had so many fine experiences, but we are looking forward to new experiences and new challenges at Eastern."

President Harold E. Sponberg of Eastern Michigan University said he "became acquainted with Frosty while both of us were at Northern (where Dr. Sponberg served as vice president for five years) and I have a great deal of respect for his ability and for his belief in athletics as an integral part of student and university life."

Ferzacca, 54, who recently resigned as head football coach at Northern to accept full-time responsibility as athletic director, came to Northern from the Green Bay Packers where he had held a front-office position.

His return to coaching opened up new fields to conquer. In nine years at Northern, he never had a losing season. His best year was in 1960 when the Wildcats posted an 8-1-1 record and battled Lenoir Rhyne to a 20-20 tie in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) semi-finals, only to lose a bid to the championship game on total offense.

Last year, his final season as head coach, Northern compiled a 7-3 record and Ferzacca was named both the Associated Press and NAIA Michigan coach-of-the-year. It was his second AP award and fourth NAIA honor.

A native of Iron Mountain, Michigan, Ferzacca was an outstanding high school athlete. He went on to Lake Forest (Illinois) College, won 13 major letters and captained the football, basketball and track teams. He earned his master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Iron Mountain Start

Ferzacca began his career as head basketball and football coach in his hometown of Iron Mountain. He later moved to Green Bay West High School, captured five conference football titles and won 24 consecutive games during the 1951-52-53 seasons. He was named Fox River Valley Coach-of-the-Year in 1952 and 1953.

He moved into the college ranks as head football coach at Marquette University where his teams won 6, lost 10, and tied 3 games during the 1954 and 1955 seasons. He left Marquette to go with the Green Bay Packers before taking the head coaching assignment at Northern. His lifetime coaching record stands at 284 wins, 94 losses, and 7 ties.

Hull Earns More Money

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, who makes more money than almost anyone else in hockey, has earned a $2,000 windfall in National Hockey League bonuses for his record-shattering point barrage during the 1965-66 season.

The Chicago super-star, who set all-time NHL marks of 54 goals and 97 points, won the individual scoring title — and its accompanying cash awards — in a runaway, final league statistics revealed today.

Hull finished 19 points ahead of runners-up Stan Mikita of the Black Hawks and Jean Beliveau of Montreal's league champions. He will pocket $1,000 for the over-all scoring lead and another $1,000 for setting the pace in each half of the 70-game season.

Hull, whose 42-point output over the second half of the campaign was matched by Beliveau, will receive the top cash award by virtue of his 22-17 edge in goals over the Montreal captain in the final 35 games. Beliveau will get $250 as the runner-up for the second half.

The league will award an extra $1,000 as a result of second place ties in the scoring and goaltending races.

Rousseau and Mikita, with identical totals of 30 goals and 48 assists, will receive $500 apiece. Toronto and Chicago, deadlocked behind the Canadiens' Gump Worsley and Charlie Hodge in the Vezina Trophy scramble, each will have $500 to divide among their goalies.

Worsley and Hodge allowed 173 goals, nailing the Vezina Trophy by a 14-goal margin and earning the $1,000 prize. Chicago also used two goalies — Glenn Hall and Dave Dryden — while Toronto employed five.

The Montreal goaltenders also will share $250 for posting the best second-half record. Hall and Dryden won $250 for leading at the halfway mark. Roger Crozier of Detroit was the shut-out king with seven.

Arleen Chern successfully defended her Girls Open championship in the city table tennis tournament which began at Club 314 Monday night.

She defeated Pat Morris in the finals, 21-8, 21-2. Third place went to Bette Lou Anderson who defeated Barb Crepeau, 21-11, 21-9, in a play-off. Donna Crepeau took fourth place by defeating Jean LaPorte, 21-14, 21-11.

Arleen Chern Retains Table Tennis Crown

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Larsen, a million-dollar pitcher 10 years ago, was available for $1 today after the Baltimore Orioles asked waivers on him preparatory to giving the veteran right-hander his unconditional release.

Larsen, 36, pitched the only no-hitter in World Series history in 1955 when he hurled a perfect game for the New York Yankees in the fifth game of the series against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Harry Dalton, personnel director of the Orioles, said he had tried unsuccessfully to line up another big league job for Larsen. After he is given his release, the lanky pitcher can be claimed for $1 by any club.

Orioles Ask Larsen Waiver

In This Corner

with Roy Crandall

Regardless of what the weather looks like outside your window, the Upper Peninsula high school track and field season is just around the corner . . . The Upper Peninsula Indoor Invitational at Northern Michigan University was slated for Saturday, April 9, but was set back to April 16 because of a conflict with electrical construction plans at the fieldhouse.

In recent years the cinder sport has assumed major status in Upper Peninsula high school ranks, attracting almost as much attention (and certainly more participation) as football and basketball . . . The increased interest has paid off in a steady stream of record breaking performances each year . . . Last year, for example, Upper Peninsula athletes established 13 new records in three classes in the finals at Michigan Tech . . . Broken down, there were three new standards established in Class A-B, four in C and six in D.

That was just a part of the modern day assault on Upper Peninsula records which has been going on each spring . . . In the last six years there have been a total of 60 record breaking performances in the Upper Peninsula final meets.

This year should be no exception as some of the finest athletes in last year's finals are available again this spring in Class A-B, some of the returning stars include Jim Boyle of Escanaba who won the high hurdles, Paul Miller of Esky who placed in the high jump and Gary Vandeville of Escanaba who earned points in the 100 and 220 dash finals, Jim Hansen of Esky who was runnerup in the shot put, Carl Norkool of Gladstone who won a section of the 880 and Bill Parkkonen of Ishpeming who copped the other half mile section, Brad Shouldice of Soo, winner of the low hurdles and runnerup to Boyle in the highs.

In Class C last spring, Ray Sibley of Wakefield was a triple winner as a sophomore, finishing first in the broad jump, 100 and 220 yard dashes and setting a new record in the 220 with a 23.1 clocking.

Track fans should keep their eyes on a sensational Class D hurdler from Channing this season . . . Paul Peak streaked out of the little Dickinson County school last spring to smash both the high and low hurdle records in the U. P. finals at Michigan Tech . . . He stepped the highs in 15.4 seconds (far better than the winning times in Classes A-B and C) and the lows in 21.1 (also faster than the winners in the bigger school classes) . . . Pickford is expected to write another amazing chapter in its astounding track book . . . Coach Web Morrison's Panthers have captured 14 straight U. P. Class D crowns . . . Last spring they finished 51½ points ahead of runnerup DeTour in the finals.

Terry Last Holdout In Majors; Remains At Home In Kansas

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ralph Terry is a majority of one.

The Cleveland Indians pitcher is the last holdout in major league baseball and it appears he and the Indians brass have come to a dead end.

"He won't budge," Indians Vice President Walter (Hoot) Evers said Monday. "I called him a second time and there is no change. It's getting late."

This means the 30-year-old Terry still wants $38,000. Indians President Gabe Paul has offered $31,000.

Terry remains at his home in Larned, Kan., and seems determined to stay there until the Indians are willing to pay the right price.

"I have no plans to go to Tucson to talk to Gabe," Terry said. "I don't know that we could accomplish anything face-to-face that we can't by telephone."

The Indians may put Terry on their restricted list because they must cut to 26 players by midnight Sunday.

"As it stands now, we don't intend to contact him before then," Paul said.

Another team was, and maybe still is, interested in Terry.

The Indians had a steady fan here last week. Frank Lane, former Indians' general manager and now special assistant to player personnel director for the Baltimore Orioles, followed the Tribe for several days.

There was no official statements, but sources close to the Indians said Lane wanted to make a deal for Terry, a right-hander who was 11-6 last year with the Tribe. It was his first year with Cleveland after five seasons with the New York Yankees.

Terry finished with a 3.00 earned run average, with 84 strikeouts and 23 walks. He gave up 154 hits and 77 runs.

The 10-year American League veteran had his best season in 1961 with the Yankees when he finished with a 16-3 record. The Indians acquired him in a cash-trade deal that sent Pedro Ramos to New York.

St. Louis Eyes NHL Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League was expected to finalize its expansion plans today with the awarding of a sixth new franchise to one of two St. Louis groups or to a Baltimore syndicate.

"If the presentations of the two St. Louis groups are unsatisfactory," said NHL President Clarence Campbell, "the franchise will go to Baltimore."

Young Yank Fielder Slams Three Homers

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes swept through Florida Monday, and that wasn't a bad hurricane the New York Yankees unleashed at Fort Lauderdale.

Roger Repoz, a young outfielder, walloped three home runs as the Yankees outlasted Cincinnati 10-9 in one of two games that survived Florida's rainy, windy weather.

In the other Florida game, Baltimore downed Washington 8-4.

At Mesa, Ariz., Cleveland whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and at Las Vegas, Nev., the Chicago Cubs blanked California 4-0.

Cancelled because of the storm were Houston-Pittsburgh; Minnesota-Kansas City; St. Louis-Chicago White Sox; Boston-New York Mets, and Atlanta-Philadelphia.

Repoz slammed two of his homers off Sammy Ellis, who will open the season for the Reds against the Mets next Monday at Cincinnati. Repoz tagged Ted Davidson for the third.

Gordy Coleman led the Reds' attack with five runs batted in on a homer, triple and single. Johnny Edwards also homered for Cincinnati.

New York rallied for its winning runs in the ninth inning with Lou Clinton's bases-loaded single delivering the tying and winning runs.

Leon Wagner rapped a pair of run-scoring doubles and left-handed ace Sam McDowell struck out seven Dodgers in the six innings he worked as Cleveland beat Los Angeles.

Max Alvis also drove in two runs for the Indians and McDowell, the American League's strikeout king last year, allowed five hits but had trouble with his control, walking five, in his six innings.

Ernie Broglio worked the first seven innings and relief specialist Ted Abernathy finished up the Cubs' three-hit shutout of the Angels. Broglio allowed all the California hits and stretched his spring record to three earned runs in 31 innings.

Catcher Chris Krug had a perfect day with four hits in four swings for Chicago. He drove in two runs. Billy Williams homered for the Cubs against Angel ace Dean Chance.

Curt Blefary, the American League's Rookie of the Year last season, hammered two home runs and Boog Powell had one as the Orioles defeated Washington.

Powell also drove in two runs with a fifth inning triple as Baltimore tagged Phil Ortega and Dick Bosman for five runs.

Willie Kirkland and Bob Chance homered for the Senators.

Track Officials Seek Accord

NEW YORK (AP) — AAU and NCAA officials will consider separately some serious fundamental problems before meeting again next month with a mediation panel in an effort to solve the dispute between the two giants of U.S. amateur athletics.

Despite the existence of these problems, which were not disclosed, Theodore Kheel of New York, chairman of the five-man panel, said at the close of a two-day meeting Monday:

"We are very optimistic about our ability to reach an agreement in the dispute."

Later, Clifford Buck, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, said "Progress is not as fast as I would like, but I think it's as fast as could be expected."

"Our aim is to get an agreement between the parties," Kheel said. "We will make an arbitration award only if necessary."

Ralph Metcalf of Chicago, a former Olympic runner and a member of the panel said:

"We feel track and field is the key issue. If we can resolve the track and field dispute, we feel all the other sports will fall in line."

While mediation is going on — the next meeting is set for May 23 and possibly May 4 — the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the AAU are bound by a moratorium.

This enables NCAA members to participate in AAU events without penalty and vice versa.

Other members of the panel, appointed by Vice President Humphrey under a resolution by the Senate, are General David Shoop of Washington, Archibald Cox of the Harvard University Law School and Thomas Vail, editor and publisher of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Now you can see why it pays you to have a Gas water heater.

The average family of four uses up to 100 gallons of hot water daily. And it costs far less to heat it with gas. You only need a heater half as big, because gas heats water faster, replaces the hot water you use quicker. How come? The heat is a direct flame. An electric unit takes longer. The heat must go through a coil.

And remember—when you already have gas in your home, a gas water heater costs less to install than an electric one. See the newest, money-saving gas water heaters at dealer, plumber or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

Lumpe Feels Tigers May Win Pennant

By BERNIE KENNEDY
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Jerry Lumpe, one of the few players now with the Tigers ever to play for a pennant-winning team, feels strongly that he might be headed into another World Series.

"You can talk a lot about personnel and who can do what," Lumpe said. "But I think the big thing with our club this year is attitude."

"Everyone gets along and all the kidding that goes on is good-natured and keeps us loose," he added.

"When I was with the Yankees in 1957 and 1958 and we won the pennant, we had a real good bench," Lumpe continued. "It seemed all we had to do was call someone off the bench or reach down to one of our farm clubs and get someone who would help us."

"I think we have that quality right here, and I don't think we'll have to go to the minors for help," he added.

Lumpe agrees with most of the other observers who feel that the Tigers' pitching staff is one of the strongest in the majors.

"I don't know of any team that has as many strong, young arms as we have," Lumpe said. "Who else can put up the likes of Denny McLain, Joe Sparrina and Mickey Lolich? And don't overlook the pitchers we have right behind them."

Lumpe admits he is not at all satisfied with his work this spring and feels some pressure from Dick Tracewski.

"Sure, I feel I'm fighting for my job," Lumpe admitted.

"But I also feel that if Dick beats me out of the job, it'll be that much better for the team. I think the fact that we do have competition for a number of positions is healthy."

"It's funny, but I feel great—in some ways better than I felt five years ago. I know that there are some ground balls that are getting harder to get to, but it's my hitting that's bothered me."

"I think I'm swinging all right but I'm just not getting the hits. Maybe I'll spend some time in the batting cage before we head north," Lumpe said.

Lumpe smiles when reminded that he led the Tigers in stolen bases — seven in seven tries — last year.

"I don't consider myself a threat on the bases," he said.

Casey Praises Met Outfield

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball's senior citizen, Casey Stengel, is on his way home today after spending a month at the New York Mets' training base.

And Ol' Case liked what he saw of the club he managed for 3½ years.

"They're greatly improved," Casey said. "The most impressive thing is the development of the outfield. With the way they're being platooned, they're no lower than third in the National League. Only the Giants and Braves outfields may be better."

Casey didn't say where he rated the rest of the Mets.

Time Big Question For Dodger Future

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Last year at this time the Los Angeles Dodgers' monumental worry was how the arthritic left arm of Sandy Koufax would react to the rigor of pitching in rotation.

The Dodgers found out and won the National League pennant.

Now the Dodgers' even more monumental worry is how fast the left arm of Koufax and the right arm of Don Drysdale will be ready to take their regular turns in the rotation.

And upon that question could rest the chances of the Dodgers to become the first NL pennant repeater since the Milwaukee Braves won in 1957 and 1958.

If Koufax and Drysdale, who signed for nearly a quarter of a million dollars after holding out for 32 days, can get into the starting rotation quickly — and pitch as they did last year, the Dodgers conceivably could wind up at or near the top again.

But if the ace hurlers need more time to get into shape, the Dodgers could, at the start, get into trouble from which they might never recover.

The Dodgers are dependent on the two pitching whizzes. There's no doubt about that. Between them last season they won 49 regular season games and three in the World Series. Koufax also set a major league strikeout record and led the majors with a 2.04 earned run average.

No matter how well they pitch, however, the Dodgers had last year and still appear to have this season a weak-hitting team.

The offense was one of the weakest in the league in 1965 as the Dodgers finished seventh in team batting with a .245 average and last in home runs with 78, less than one every other game.

The return of outfielder Tommy Davis could add some potency to the lineup, but the Dodgers will have to wait and see how far he can return. Davis, the NL batting champion in 1962 and 1963, sat out all but 17 games last year with a broken ankle.

Right now he's having difficulty running, so he must remain a question mark.

So must the Dodgers' infield experiment, Jim Lefebvre, the league's Rookie of the Year, has been switched from second base to third making room for Nate Oliver, who finally may be ready to make it after hitting .284 at Spokane last season.

If Oliver can't, Lefebvre will go back to second, and either John Kennedy or the ever reliable Jim Gilliam—now a coach—will take over at third.

The remainder of the infield is set with Wes Parker at first base and Maury Wills at shortstop. John Roseboro is back behind the plate, and Ron Fairly and Willie Davis will be in the outfield with Tommy Davis or Lou Johnson.

The Dodgers do have some pitchers besides Koufax and Drysdale. Claude Osteen, 15-15 with a 2.79 ERA last year, is the No. 3 hurler while veteran Johnny Podres and Phil Regan, acquired from Detroit, could help. Manager Walter Alston also has some youngsters who could come through, such as Don Sutton, Bill Singer and Joe Mauer.

But still the Dodgers' hopes for winning another pennant or even finishing among the top three or four lie with Koufax and Drysdale.

Houston Signs Young Pitcher

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros have signed Tom Griffin, 18, a right-handed pitcher from Van Nuys, Calif., as their No. 1 choice in the January free agent draft.

Griffin, a 6-foot-2, 200-pounder, was signed to a bonus contract by Astro scouts Jim Wilson and Karl Kuehl who previously had signed pitcher Larry Dierker.

"Tom has impressed us just as Dierker did," Wilson said. "He throws very hard and has an excellent curve ball and good control."

Griffin will attend junior college until June, when he will report to the Astros' rookie team in Bismarck, N.D.

Growdon And Wrist Honored

These changes were announced by President George H. Pringle.

All experimental, developmental and corporate technical service programs of the Central Research Laboratories will continue to be under the guidance of Corporate Vice President John C. Christmas Is In April For Blind Victims Of Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Christmas in April for the Andrew Logue family.

Logue, 39, his wife, Ellen, 30, and two of their four sons are blind. They lost their possessions and their Brooklyn home in a fire March 26.

Richard Logue, 12, one of the blind sons and oldest of the four, belongs to a Boy Scout troop, half of whose members also are blind. The troop decided to help the family by scouting area residents for contributions.

When that fact was publicized, others also decided to help, and more than $2,000 in funds poured in for the Logues.

A furniture store donated three full rooms of furnishings. Others also contributed furniture, a truckload of which pulled up to the Logue's new home Sunday.

A dozen cars also pulled up, packed with clothing, 45 cartons of which were carried upstairs by Boy Scouts to the Logue's fourth-floor apartment.

Logue said the money will be saved for college educations for his sons, the youngest now 7.

Said Mrs. Logue, "We've got so much now, people have sent us 300 letters and all these things... we just don't know what to say."

Bronze was the earliest alloy used by man.
